

REPORT FROM THE INTERNATIONAL OFFICE – 2022 ACTIVITIES

"The mission of IPPS, with a focus on the global community of those involved in horticultural plant production, is to share knowledge, information, and skills; to provide guidance and support for lifelong career achievements; to increase recognition of the profession; and to maximize the integration of research, education, and horticultural knowledge."

In the year Two-Thousand Twenty-Two, the International Board of Directors undertook substantial efforts to reinstate in-person events, marking a pivotal moment for our global membership. Another noteworthy focus of the year centered around the deliberations on the Open Access of the Proceedings. Following extensive discussions and a unanimous Board vote, it was collectively decided to provide Open Access to all Proceedings, barring the most recent volume.

Remarkably, regional membership exhibited stability throughout the year. The resilience is particularly encouraging amid the challenges posed by the ongoing Covid-19 pandemic. Optimistically, we anticipate a surge in membership as regions gradually resume pre-covid, in-person events, and other engaging activities.

The Proceedings continue to be presented in a digital format on our website, with Curran Publishing handling the printing for our members, especially those based in North America. Additionally, all earlier versions of the Proceedings have been made accessible to the public through our website.

Regrettably, there was no International Tour in 2022. However, we eagerly anticipate the upcoming International Tour, scheduled to be hosted by the Southern Region of North America in October 2023. The anticipation and excitement for this event promise to make it a memorable and enriching experience for our international community.

As we reflect on the accomplishments and challenges of 2022, we look forward with optimism to a future characterized by reinvigorated in-person interactions and the continued growth of our global membership.
